

Appendix I
Housing Subsidy Update

Current Partner Analysis of Existing Housing Subsidy, Supports & Service Levels

In examining how low income households are able to meet housing needs and achieve housing stability, community partners again identified significant inadequacies of housing subsidies, supports and service levels.

	Strongly Agree	Agree	Neither Agree nor Disagree	Disagree	Strongly Disagree	N/A No Response
Landlords interested in providing units to local households have adequate and efficient access to rental subsidies and a pool of potential tenants .	1%	8%	26%	30%	15%	20%
Rent Supplement and Housing Allowance funding levels are adequate for households that are eligible.	0%	12%	12%	38%	36%	1%
An increased number of low income households are experiencing housing stability - able to meet rental arrearages avoiding eviction .	1%	11%	23%	30%	30%	5%
An increased number of low income households have been able to access rental subsidies to stabilize their housing or move to more affordable and safe housing.	0%	12%	26%	32%	24%	5%
The capacity of case management and/or other forms of housing supports to maintain housing is adequate to meet demand.	0%	5%	15%	43%	35%	1%
The capacity of eviction prevention services is adequate to meet demand.	0%	11%	19%	44%	22%	4%
The capacity of rehousing support services is adequate to meet demand.	0%	7%	15%	43%	30%	5%