Peel's Community Safety and Well-being Plan summary

Since 2018, organizations in Peel have been working together to create Peel's first Community Safety and Well-being (CSWB) Plan.

The Plan is guided by the Ministry of the Solicitor General's Community Safety and Well-being Planning Framework, which defines community safety and well-being as the ideal state of a sustainable community where everyone is safe, has a sense of belonging, opportunities to participate, and where individuals and families are able to meet their needs for education, health care, food, housing, income, and social and cultural expression.

The areas of focus for this first iteration of the Plan include family violence, mental health and addictions, and systemic discrimination. The Plan examines the needs of youth and families in our community across all three areas. The first iteration of the Plan will follow a four year time frame and will be reviewed and updated annually, as required, to reflect the emerging needs of Peel residents. The impacts of COVID-19 on the community reinforced the urgency of supporting residents within the three areas of focus.

The Plan presents an opportunity to work together across sectors on a collective vision that can lead to long-term and sustainable improvements for our community.

Vision

Peel is a safe, inclusive and connected community where all residents thrive.

Mission

We will work together to ensure access to services and supports that advance safety, connectedness and well-being for all Peel residents.

The Plan applies:

- An equity lens to support people from our entire community to contribute to the plan and provide a clear view of how different populations are affected by issues facing Peel.
- Social determinants of health to understand how the conditions in which people are born, grow, work, live and age influence their health and well-being.

- A collective impact approach to recognize it takes the whole community, with a common agenda and shared results, measurement and plan of action to solve complex social problems.
- A place-based approach to value assets and strengths in our local community and focus resources where they are needed and in a way that makes sense locally.
- An upstream focus to develop solutions and take action to address the social factors that influence the health and safety of Peel communities.

Important drivers of the CSWB Plan

- Advocacy to other levels of government for additional resources/funding and equitable policies to advance community safety and well-being in Peel.
- Communication and engagement with residents and community partners.
- Shared measurement and indicators to monitor progress and success.

Working together

Over 400 individuals and organizations shared their voices and experiences to inform the development of the CSWB Plan. Overall, consultations indicated a need for more Peel-specific data, more diverse and continuous engagement, and more awareness building in each area of focus – all with an equity and intersectional lens. There was consensus amongst participants that there is need to develop a sense of urgency and accountability to make progress on these issues.

As a result, our CSWB Plan will aim to provide:

- Improved coordination, collaboration and alignment across health and social systems
- Information sharing and performance measurement to track gaps in the system
- Increased understanding of and focus on priority risks and marginalized groups and neighbourhoods
- New or improved services and programs

Over 25 organizations, including police and emergency services, school boards, health and social service providers and governments make up the Plan's System Leadership Table and action tables around each area of focus and are committed to working together, with our community, to make a difference in the lives of Peel residents.
